UNITED STATES WAS WITH THE ALLIES

(By Associated Press)

Washington, May 11.—Administration officials expressed satisfaction today over the decision of German government to accept reparations terms. It is known that invasion of Ruhr Valley by Allied forces would have been regarded by the United States with deep concern although Allies had been given assurance that America would stand with them against Germany. American government economists appeared convinced of Germany's ability to meet obligations and professed to see in her decision promise of an economical revival that would cause happy reaction throughout the world. With highly controversial in the question presented by Allies insistence upon Germany's agreement to pay fixed indemnities out of way it indicated that the State Department expected to proceed more rapidly consideration of numerous problems connected with the development of its foreign policy. Department officials did not indicate the order of procedure but it was made clear that policy be insistence of equal opportunity and recognition of American rights throughout the world.

THREATENED QUARANTINE OF TEXAS ON PINK BOLL WORM

(By Associated Press) Austin, Tex., May 11.—The threatened quarantine by the federal government against Texas because of the spread of the pink boll worm was discussed by representatives of a number of business organizations and cotton associations of the state at a conference with Governor Neff yesterday.

At the conclusion of the meeting the governor agreed to submit to the special session of the legislature an amendment to the present pink boll worm law to meet the federal requirements. The governor also agreed to appoint a delegation to attend a conference called by the secretary of agriculture, to be held at Washington May 16, to which the cotton interests of the South have been invited to send representatives to discuss the pink boll worm problem. The governor is expected to announce the personnel of the committee within a few days.

At the Washington conference, the government's requirements of Texas will be fully explained. Yesterday's conference, with Governor Neff was arranged by James Z. George, vice president and general manager of the Texas Chamber of Commerce, who was in attendance. Other organizations represented included the Texas Cotton Association, Texas Farm Bureau, Texas Cotton Seed Crushers' Association, San Antonio Chamber of Commerce, Waco Chamber of Commerce, Houston Chamber of Commerce, Austin Chamber of Commerce, and the A. & M. College.

RETAILERS REFUTE CHARGES OF BOARD

Washington, May 11.—Charges that the retail trade has not played its part in the readjustment of prices, made by the federal trade commission in recent reports on the business situation, by the federal reserve board and other governmental officials, has aroused the ire of retailers throughout the country and meetings are to be held here May 12 and 13 by merchants to endeavor to convince the government that they have not only played their part in the readjustment process, but in many instances have borne more than their part of the losses resulting through the reduction of prices.

Retailers have represented here that the charges are not only unfounded, but are influencing the public to continue the "buyers' strike," thus making it impossible for them to dispose of their present stocks and replace them with goods to be sold on the basis of today's cost. The retailers in many cities are advertising goods at very low prices. The only things that is keeping prices high seems to be the strikes and unemployment which are disastrous on business. The "overhead" expenses are too much for business at present and the retailer is doing his part, is the report of all. Business in the smaller towns in retail lines is worse than in the cities and the retail business men are urged to advertise and show the world their prices are fair.

PERHAPS PEAK IN HIGHER RATES ARE REACHED AT LAST

(By Associated Press) Washington, May 11.—Suspended schedules proposing substitution of 35 per cent for 33 1-3 per cent increase in class and commodity rates between Eastern and Southern territory and the Southwest were ordered cancelled today by Interstate Commerce Commission.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Jenkins are in Marlin for a few weeks stay, going for the benefit of Mrs. Jenkins' health, who is suffering from rheumatism.

Mrs. J. W. Coulter had a message today from her son, Walter J. Coulter, who is aboard a ship in company with Mr. Andrew Baker of Dallas, bound for South America, saying he was detained in New Orleans one day and in the Mississippi river two days on account of Seaman's strike. Being delayed these days Messrs. Baker and Coulter have changed their plans and will now visit Cuba before going to Panama.

MIKE, SIX-YEAR-OLD BOY ESCAPES HOME FOR FORTY-SIX TIMES

(By Associated Press) New York, May 11.—Six year old Michael Clementi, the hop-a-wagon, steal-a-ride and runaway champion, was back home today after having been rescued from his forty-fifth spasm of wanderlust. In ten months Mike has disappeared from home at least once a week, his father told police. Sunday afternoon Mike was absent at meal time and Papa Clementi notified police headquarters. Mike turned up yesterday morning in the Coney Island police station. He was claimed by his father and mother, taken home, then started to school. He hopped a wagon, rode to a subway station, eluded the ticket agent, rode to Manhattan, climbed atop a Fifth avenue bus and hid himself under a seat. A policeman hauled Mike from the bus and the closing scenes of the episode were a police station and a woodshed. Mike answered roll call at school today.

DEATH OF MISS NETTIE LOCKE

Early Thursday morning, April 28, the announcement of the unexpected death of Miss Nettie Locke, which occurred at the home of her father, Mr. T. D. Locke, of Cottonwood, spread a deep gloom over our entire and adjoining communities, and brought unspeakable sorrow not only to her own family, but to her many friends.

As was her custom she rose early and started a fire in the stove. Seeing a number of rats running about the place, she took the gun and started out to kill some. But in passing out at the back door, she fell or in some way accidentally shot herself and died instantly. Being such a tragedy makes it the sadder and more depressing.

Miss Nettie Locke was 28 years old and had lived in this community all her life. She leaves to mourn her loss a father, Mr. T. D. Locke; a brother, Fred R. Locke, and three sisters, Misses Della and Minnie Locke and Mrs. Bou Francis, all of this community, and a host of other relatives and friends.

She has been an active member of the Cottonwood Baptist church for a number of years. She was a faithful Sunday school teacher of an intermediate class, a leader in B. Y. P. U. work and a member of the Ladies' Aid Society. She was ever ready to do anything within her power for anyone who needed help; ready at all times to do her duty as she saw it, always standing for the right, and active in the upbuilding of her community. She was a favorite among the children, the young people, and the older people.

She was a loving sister, a dutiful daughter, and a sincere friend, whom everybody loved for her womanly traits of character and cheerful disposition.

Though her place in the home can never be filled, and we feel keenly the loss of such a dear one from our social circle, we know that she is at rest.

The funeral service was held at the Beckham cemetery Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock, Rev. R. L. Brown conducted the services. The floral tribute was beautiful. The pall bearers were: Henry Kootz, Walter Holden, Rufus Batten, Jesse Hughes, John Whitten and Roland Crenshaw.

Miss Kittie Hogue is spending the week with relatives and friends in Dallas.

HOSTILITIES HAVE BEEN SUSPENDED IN UPPER SILESIA

(By Associated Press) London, May 11.—Negotiations between Inter Allied Commission in upper Silesia and Adalbert Korfanty, leader of Polish insurgents, resulted last evening in suspension of hostilities, says a dispatch to Central News from Warsaw today.

HEARNE SECTION SUFFERS FROM RAIN

Hearne, Texas, May 11.—A heavy rain with some hail accompanied by continuous thunder and lightning poured down for an hour yesterday afternoon, and the cloud-banks indicate more to follow. This section has been deluged so many times this spring, it is getting to be an old story. Farmers have just finished planting cotton the third time and it looks now as if the third planting will be lost. Never have crops at this time of year shown poorer prospects. However, it is said that the Hearne section beats any part of Texas when it comes to estimating prospects—it can promise more and produce less and promise less and produce more than any country on the globe. If that be true, then we can hope for a bumper crop.

SALADINER POISONING MACHINE COMPANY IS LAUNCHED IN BRYAN

Mr. J. M. Saladinier has been working for 18 years on a machine to stop the ravages of the boll weevil. He has now solved the problem. When he solved it for the boll weevil he solved it for many other field pests at the same time. His machine destroys the boll worms, the leaf worm, and will work just as well for the Irish potato bug. It is adapted, at the same time for the Green bug of the grain growers. But Mr. Saladinier says it will also get the pink boll worm by destroying his breeding and hiding places. Some of the best men of Brazos county are behind the company and they are expecting big things. The company is capitalized at $100,000.00 with Mr. H. O. Boatwright, president of First National Bank, treasurer, and Mr. P. S. Mangum, sales manager.

The demand for a practical poisoning machine for not only cotton but for other crops as well is tremendous. According to governmental estimates there are now 25,000,000 acres of cotton alone that is being ravaged by the boll weevil. The government has decided after spending millions in experimenting that poisoning is only remedy and that such a machine as can blow the poison onto all parts of the plants and spray in the daytime while it is dry, and at the same time, destroy the hiding and breeding places of the insect horde is absolutely necessary. The Saladinier poisoner does more than this, even. It leans the plant over so as to put the poison underneath the leaves and blows it into all his concealed places. Besides, it carries its own dew making machinery, and also, has covered wings so as to prevent the wind from blowing the poison away.

A. & M. STUDENTS TO VACATE DORMITORY FOR VISITORS

(Special to the Eagle) College Station, Texas, May 11.—One of the most modern dormitories on the campus of the A. & M. College of Texas will be vacated by the students in order to provide accommodations for visitors who will come to the college for the Forty-fifth Annual Commencement from May 21 to 25.

The city commissioners are having all street lights painted which is adding much to the appearance of the town. The color selected is a soft shade of gray, which is pleasing to the eye and at the same time don't show dust.

Mrs. William Wimberly is in Kerrville with her sister, Mrs. Keefer, who is there for the benefit of her health.

Burford Myers has returned to his home in Houston after a pleasant visit with his sister, Mrs. Lige Spell.

RAILROADS COST TOO MUCH IN OPERATING EXPENSES

Farmers Products Going Down and Railroad Expenses Going Up—General Inefficiency Charged Everywhere in Railroad Management and Operation.

(Special to the Eagle)

Washington, May 11.—The trouble with the railroads is excessive operating expenses," an abnormal amount of which is the cost of labor," Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the board of the Southern Pacific railroad, said before the Senate Interstate Committee. He was the first witness at the opening of the Congressional investigation into the whole transportation situation. "The trouble with our railroads has been intensified by the results of twenty-six months of an experiment in Government ownership and operating," Kruttschnitt said the increase of labor cost in 1920 over 1919 was $873,814,652. "The Government having strangled the railroads into something like bankruptcy," he concluded, "at last removed its hands and permitted a sudden increase in rates that should have been gradual and started at least twelve years ago. We should bear in mind and circulate widely the president's epigram, 'More business in Government and less Government in business'."

CHEAPER FOOD CROPS OF FARMER CITED

The cost of corn pone and a bowl of rice, two of the principal items of food on the menu of negro workers in the South, has dropped about 50 per cent, L. E. Faulkner, general manager of the Mississippi Central Railroad, testified. All the farmers products have gone down while other expenses are going up. It seems the higher expenses are on the railroads the less service there is in moving freight.

Considerable argument developed over an understanding with the employees described by Faulkner as an agreement accepting reduced pay. The agreement was repudiated later, he said, when national union officers came in and refused to allow the road's employees to accept a wage cut. Faulkner told the board he presented figures to the employees obtained from stores where they bought their food, showing large decreases in the cost of groceries. Flour dropped from $2 to $1.60 between July 1920, the time of the Labor Board's wage award, and Feb. 1, 1921, when the Mississippi Central reduced wages. Corn meal dropped from 70 to 40 cents and rice from 17 to 5 cents. Sugar fell from 27 to 8 cents and potatoes from 10 to 4 cents, Faulkner said.

ALL OPERATING RAILROAD EXPENSES TOO HIGH (Waco News-Tribune)

Waco, Texas, May 11.—One of the reasons assigned for the unsettled conditions in this country is that freight rates are so high that shippers can't get any profit out of anything after settling with the railroads. Some people are not aware of the fact, but it is nevertheless true that it costs more to send an article by local freight from the manufactures in Wisconsin to Texas, than it cost to send it by express. The other day we were shown a letter from the American Furniture company to a dealer here quoting him $10.87 cwt. for a shipment from one of the northern states, while the express rate was quoted at $7.67. Now what do you think of that? The idea of freight rates being 25 per cent higher than express rates. We had heard this before and did not believe it until the actual figures were shown us.

There is no question in our mind about the roads having a rate that is going to prove ruinous to producers. When it takes two-thirds of the retail price of an article to pay the freight on it from one state to another, something is wrong. No man can afford to raise Irish potatoes at 40c a bushel and yet that is all the producer gets out of the deal after he has paid the freight to market.

When the rates come down there will be an incentive to ship produce to the various markets, a little cash will commence coming home, above what has to go to the carrier and eventually there will be a new life to the commercial affairs of the country. We do not believe in government ownership of railroads and we do not believe in the government meddling with private business where it can possibly be avoided. But unless a freight rate is established that will give the producer of food a chance to live, a change is going to come. The railroad heads can fool all the people some of the time and some of the people all of the time, but they can't fool all of the people all of the time on this proposition. If they can't get the rates down any other way, they will have to reduce their running expenses not only by cutting the common laborers, but also by getting rid of some of their exorbitantly high priced officials. The American people will stand a great deal but they won't stand more than they can pack on their backs, and it looks as if the railroads of the country are trying to overload them.

The Baylor College Glee Club, after their visit to College Station on Saturday night when they appear in concert at Guion Hall, will come into Bryan Sunday morning and sing at the 11 o'clock service at the First Baptist church in this city and will also give an anthem at the service at night. Bryan has been visited by these musical girls before and the people of the city are looking forward with keen delight to their visit on Sunday when they shall enjoy again their sweet voices in song.

Mrs. Minnie Elliott is quite ill at her home on 24th Street, which her many friends will regret to learn.

The many friends of Mr. Morgan Closs, one of Brazos county's most popular and successful farmers living in the Steep Hollow community are grieved to learn of his continued very serious illness at his home.

R. B. Splane of Brenham is in Bryan for a few days visit to Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Jenkins. Mr. Splane is a nephew of Mrs. Jenkins.

College Chaps Are Now To Face Lean Summer

Chicago, Ill., May 11.—Pity the poor college chap. Added to Mr. Edison's indictment that he is "woefully ignorant," comes a heavier and more crushing blow. He can't line up a summer vacation job. At least he knows enough to swing a pick and shovel, but he can't even get a job at that. The jobs aren't, that's all. Some 6,000,000 are out of work.

Furthermore, if he does land a summer job the "stake" is going to be small and harder to earn.

William J. Mather, head of the University of Chicago's employment bureau, says the soft snaps of yesteryears are gone—and the students, who are beginning to call upon him for assistance, realize it.

"Last summer the college man could pick his job," said Mather. "They could earn $6 and $7 a day without trouble. Farmers were crying for help then. Now they have no jobs. This is tough on the college men, especially the athletically inclined, who like the vigorous work on the farm."

"The easy 'white collar' jobs are gone, too. The only offerings are for highly skilled workers, such as statisticians and cost accountants. This requires special training."

But there is one place where the college man will reign supreme, in spite of the labor surplus. That is at the summer resorts. College men make ideal swimming instructors. "Ignorance" notwithstanding, every summer finds them the idols of the summer resorts.

BRYAN ROTARY CLUB WAS ORGANIZED HERE MONDAY

Tom K. Lawrence Elected President and Oak McKenzie Secretary—Address by Bishop Quin, Messrs. Payne and Kerr of Houston

The Rotary Club of Bryan, Texas, came into being Monday when Bishop C. S. Quin, of Houston, Texas, as a representative of the District Governor of Rotary Clubs, declared the following officers elected for the year: T. K. Lawrence, president; Lee J. Rountree, vice president; Oak McKenzie, secretary; R. W. Howell, treasurer, and G. S. Parker, sergeant-at-arms.

The occasion was a luncheon served at St. Andrew's Parish House by the ladies of the Episcopal church to the following: Dr. W. H. Oliver, J. Webb Howell, J. A. McQueen, Dr. Ernest Moore, Rev. H. B. Jamison, M. E. Wallace, Tyler Haswell, Oak McKenzie, C. R. Gardner, Lee J. Rountree, C. E. Jones, F. L. Henderson, D. L. Wilson, T. K. Lawrence, Travis B. Bryan, R. W. Howell and G. S. Parker, of Bryan; Bishop C. S. Quin, Mr. T. S. Payne, and Mr. R. E. Kerr, of Houston.

The meeting was called by Mr. T. K. Lawrence who presided as temporary chairman, and Oak McKenzie acted as temporary secretary. The luncheon was served as only those ladies know how to serve, and the best of fellowship prevailed. After the luncheon, the temporary chairman asked for the roll call, and as it was called each member rose in his seat and explained his occupation or profession in life, and called for a report of the committee appointed at a previous meeting on a proposed constitution and by-laws, and the report was adopted. The committee on nomination of a board of directors was then called upon for a report. Mayor Tyler Haswell read the report for the committee, naming the following: T. K. Lawrence, Lee J. Rountree, Oak McKenzie, R. W. Howell, Dr. W. B. Bizzell, Lee Ashburn, and G. S. Parker. The seven were then elected unanimously, when they were asked by Bishop Quin, who then took charge, to retire and selected the officers for the first year. They retired and a few minutes later brought in a report which was adopted, making the gentlemen named in the first paragraph the officers of the Rotary Club of Bryan for the year. Bishop Quin called for talks by Mr. T. S. Payne, of Houston, and Mr. R. E. Kerr, of Houston, who responded with interesting talks on the benefits of a Rotary Club, and extended invitations to the Bryan Rotarians to come to Houston at any time, and visit the Rotarians there. Bishop Quin then in a splendid talk explained the Rotary idea the delight and pleasure of the club. On behalf of the Houston Club he presented each member of the Bryan Club with a beautiful Rotarian Code of Ethics and urged them to have it framed and placed on the walls of their store, office or home. He reminded them of the fact that Rotary means that business stands should have in them a note of sympathy for common humanity. That the business dealings and relations of the Rotarian should always cause him to take into consideration his highest duties as a member of society. That in every position in business life, in every responsibility that comes before him, his chief thought should be to fill that responsibility and discharge that duty so that when he has ended each of them, he shall have lifted the level of human ideals and achievements a little higher than he found them. He predicted a useful and profitable field for the Rotary Club of Bryan, and urged every member to keep ever before him the Rotarian motto, "He profits most who serves best." The next weekly luncheon of the club will be on Tuesday the 17th.

GIGANTIC LOSSES IN U. S. RAILWAYS APPALLS COUNTRY

(Special to the Eagle) Washington, May 10.—Loss to the Government in operation of the railroads under Federal control will be about $1,200,000 or $300,000,000 more than estimated by former Director General Hines, according to an estimate today by Director General Davis. The railway business was one of the most gigantic losses in the war—next to government waste. The inefficiency from top to bottom was appalling. There was little attempt to make the railroad business pay as the two factions were fighting each other. The people must pay the enormous loss.

MISS LAWRENCE COMING. Miss Della Lawrence of this city, Grand Secretary for the Kappa Kappa Gamma fraternity, who has been at Washington, D. C. on official business for that organization for the past few months is expected to arrive in Bryan next Sunday. Miss Lawrence left Washington last Wednesday and has been on official visits to chapters in Ohio, North and South Carolina, Indiana, Missouri and Louisiana, during the past week. This very important position filled so efficiently by Miss Lawrence has given opportunity for her splendid intellect and personality to be recognized, and the service she has rendered has been complimented by higher officers in the fraternity work all over the United States. Bryan friends proudly note the success being attained by one of their most accomplished and beloved daughters.

A 2,500 Barrel Oil Well Develops In Mexia Field

(Special to the Eagle) Mexia, Texas, May 10.—Making flows of twenty-five to forty barrels three times an hour the Henry well of the Humphreys-Mexia and Humphreys-Texas Companies is producing oil at the rate of 1,500 to 2,500 barrels a day from the Woodbine sand. The drill has pierced the sand eighty feet, casing having been set at 2,982 feet and the sand encountered at 3,012 feet. This is the fifth producing oil well in the Mexia field, all of them being located within a few miles west of Mexia. The Henry well is about one-half mile southwest of the Rogers discovery well of the Humphreys-Mexia Company, which was brought in last November. Doing then about 100 barrels a day, it has been drilled forty feet into the sand and is doing more than 200 barrels a day, flowing by heads. The Occidental Oil Company's Liles and the Humphreys-Texas Company's Blake Smith wells also are producing.

OTHER WELLS ARE REPORTED FLOWING. The Berthelson well of the Humphreys-Mexia Company, just south of the Rogers, is now being completed with standard tools. It is flowing by heads, with the bit still in the hole, and is estimated good for 300 to 400 barrels a day. It is being drilled deeper into the sand. Plans are being made to standardize on the J. O. Kennedy well south of the Henry well, which was drilled in with a rotary several weeks ago. Production so far has been disappointing, but officials of the Humphreys Companies are hopeful of a much better well when drilled with standard tools.

Much excitement has resulted from the Henry well showing. The well was drilled in Saturday and since has produced more than 2,500 barrels of oil flowing through a six-inch pipe into flow tanks. It has overflowed a 500-barrel steel tank and filled three earthen reservoirs.

STORM DEMOLISHES FARM MACHINERY BUILDING AT COLLEGE

College Station, Texas, May 10.—A swift wind storm that accompanied a heavy rain here Monday afternoon about 5 o'clock completely destroyed a large temporary building housing about $15,000.00 worth of farm machinery used in the instruction of agricultural engineering students of the A. & M. College causing a loss in the building of about $25,000.00 and damage to the machinery of about $500, according to the estimates of Professor D. Scoates this morning. The wind lifted the roof of about 9000 square feet area from the farm machinery building and with it clinging in its original form with gables attached raised it to a height of forty or fifty feet, passed it completely over the top of the Auto Mechanics shops situated about 200 feet south and transported it a distance of another 100 feet where it struck the northwest corner of the Animal Husbandry building and was shattered. After the roof was lifted the walls of the structure collapsed and lumber and machinery wrecked together.

Fortunately there were no students in the farm machinery building when the wind struck it. However, about 100 were working in the Auto Mechanics laboratory which the mass of wreck passed over and had this building been struck by the flying tons of lumber it would have also been demolished, as it is only a loosely constructed frame structure erected by the government for temporary purposes during the war and is being replaced by a permanent building. The machinery in the building was only held on consignment by the college and belonged to various manufacturers in the United States. The loss on this is represented in the repair cost to the implements.

Prof. Scoates has requested Representative Rountree to inspect the destroyed building with a view of securing an appropriation to erect a new building which is badly needed and has been for some time. The question of a new building will be brought before the special session of the legislature called by Governor Neff in July.

A heavy wind, rain and hail storm prevailed in portions of Brazos county Monday afternoon doing some damage. The hail was heavy in some localities and in others there was no hail but the rain was terrific aggregating 3.70 inches. The silo of J. P. Bittle and two silos of C. M. Evans were blown down. The Bryan Oil Mill garage was damaged. The lightning which flashed vividly struck the Interurban car barn but did no damage. The wind reached a velocity of 50 miles per hour and the hail fell for eight minutes at places. The home of A. W. Kinnard was slightly damaged by the wind and rain. Several other small damages are reported including much crop damage in sections.

WORK OF EXPERIMENT STATION AT COLLEGE

College Station, Texas, May 10.—Beginning in the spring of 1918 the agricultural experiment station of Texas A. and M. College, in co-operation with the federal government, has been conducting annual growing tests to determine the best source of Irish seed potatoes for Texas growers. Although only preliminary results were announced, Nebraska unirrigated stock was favored for use in Texas. Professor A. T. Potts, of the A. and M. College, who is in charge of the tests, said he hoped to complete the tests with the present growing crop and publish a bulletin containing the information that is sought. Because of the climatic conditions in Texas, seed cannot be preserved from the fall crop for spring planting, according to Professor Potts. Sometimes fairly good results can be obtained by planting in the fall potato seed produced in the spring, he said, but such seed cannot be used successfully the following spring. Consequently the problem in Texas is finding a source of potato seed where the climatic conditions during the growing season are similar to those in Texas.

"In past years Texas growers have encountered trouble in selecting seed," Professor Potts said. "At times they obtained poor, diseased stock, frequently mixed with late maturing sorts. Texas must have very early seed, as the principal crop in this state is what is called 'new potatoes.' The hot weather that comes late in the spring is fatal to late maturing stock."

"Finally in 1918 the Texas experiment station was able to take up the work of testing seed procurable from other states for planting purposes in Texas with a view of determining the best source. It was not a matter of determining the varieties adapted to the state, but in finding a territory with climatic conditions suitable for a well known fact that for early growing seed adapted to Texas. It was a well known fact that for early production 'triumph' was the variety to be used for seed and for a late crop 'cobbler' was the suitable variety. Since the desirable and profitable crop in Texas was 'new potatoes' it was a simple matter of choosing variety for any planter."

"A plot of ground was selected near College Station and in 1918, nineteen lots were selected from several leading seed potato states and planted. Triumphs and cobbler made up most of the lots, but other promising varieties were included. Among these were both irrigated and dryland stock. Most of them were bought on the open market."

"All were harvested for 'new potatoes' and the yields on the best lots for that year were: Nebraska triumph unirrigated, 125 bushels per acre; Maine cobbler, unirrigated, 87 bushels per acre; Nebraska pearl, unirrigated, 86 bushels, and Nebraska cobbler, 80 bushels. The yields were small when compared with those in the leading potato states, but the crop was dug in the immature state in accordance with the practice in Texas in order to get them on the early market for the high prices. The average yield in Texas is only about 56 bushels per acre."

"More or less disease was noticed on all stock and more than half of the crop was so badly diseased as to be unfit for market. Some yields were as low as 15 to 18 bushels per acre. Results in 1919 with 16 lots were: Nebraska triumph, 192 bushels per acre; Maine cobbler, 180 bushels; Minnesota triumph, 176 bushels; Kentucky triumph, 161 bushels. Results in 1920 with 20 lots were: Nebraska triumph, 119 bushels per acre; Wisconsin triumph, 109 bushels; Nebraska triumph, 104 bushels; Nebraska triumph, 86 bushels." According to Professor Potts the agricultural experiment stations, both state and federal, particularly of Nebraska and Wisconsin, are co-operating with potato growers to improve their stock.

TURBULENT TIMES IN TEXAS FIFTY YEARS AGO

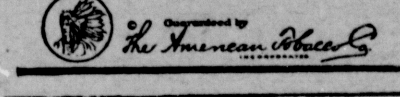

The Galveston News of May 10, 1871, fifty years ago in speaking of the turbulent political history of Texas under reconstruction days says: "On Saturday last the Governor E. J. Davis sent a message by the secretary to Speaker Ira H. Evans, who was in his private room. But the House was not in session and Evans would not receive it. It was then given to the Sergeant at Arms. He was not wishing to take it, the governor told him to throw it into the street. He had done his duty and would have nothing further to do with it. It was a veto of the Atlantic and Pacific railroad bill. Speaker Evans made a full explanation and showed plainly that Davis had again put his foot in it. He said the message should be presented to the House in a proper manner or not received."

IMPERIAL WIZARD KU KLUX KLAN TO LEAD KNIGHTS OF THE AIR

(Special to the Eagle) Atlanta, Ga., May 10.—Responding to a petition signed by 700 prominent citizens throughout the country, including Major General Charles T. Menohor, chief of the air service of the United States government, and General John J. Pershing, it was announced here Sunday that Colonel William J. Simmons, imperial wizard of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, had accepted an invitation to head an organization now being formed in Philadelphia to be known as the Knights of the Air.

Presented at Ku Klux Meet. The petition was presented to Colonel Simmons at a closed meeting of the Ku Klux Klan held in the Atlanta theatre this morning incident to the annual anniversary celebration of the order, and was read by Major C. Anderson Wright, in an address urging Colonel Simmons to accept the proffered position, declared the Knights of the Air, which is intended to guarantee forever to the United States supremacy in the aerial field, has the full indorsement of government officials interested in this phase of national development.

Others signing the petition, besides General Menohor and General Pershing were: Reed Landis, son of Judge K. M. Landis of Chicago; Eddie Rickbacker, probably the most noted flyer in the world; Jack M. Seab, J. S. Owens and Charles J. Biddo, all flyers of national renown; William C. Potter, chairman of the board of directors of the Guarantee Trust Co., of New York; Byrley J. Osburn, president of the Aero club of Massachusetts, who, with his name, furnished a list of 300 members of his organization, urging Colonel Simmons to head the Knights of the Air; K. M. Turner, president of the Aero Club of Southern California; Commander Albert C. Read of the naval air service, who was pilot of the famous NC-4 during its flight across the Atlantic, Major Wright, who presented the petition, was a captain of infantry until transferred to the air service. He has received citations and diplomas from many countries, including England, France, Italy, Belgium, Spain, Japan, The Netherlands and others. He holds a reserve officer's rank in the air service of the United States, is lieutenant colonel in the National Guard, and is an honorary member of more than 50 aerial clubs, besides being president of the Aerial Club of Texas and the Mississippi Aviation Clubs association, both of which he organized.

Major Wright told Colonel Simmons that several months ago leading aviators and others interested in promoting the interests of the United States along aviation lines determined to form a compact national organization for this purpose. They desired this organization should be headed by a man of large type, nationally known and with the genius to organize. Such a man, they unanimously agreed, was to be found in Colonel Simmons. Accordingly, a formal petition was drawn up and sent to about 700 prominent citizens, airmen and others, all of whom returned the petition signed and indorsed.

Further details of the plans of organization for the Knights of the Air will be announced as soon as Colonel Simmons has opportunity to confer further with leaders in the movement.

DIRECTOR WALTON URGES BRAZOS CO. LIVE STOCK ASS'N

(Special to the Eagle.) College Station, Texas, May 9.—I am in receipt of a communication from Mr. Roger Astin, president of the Brazos County Pure Bred Livestock Association in which he says: "The Brazos County Pure Bred Livestock Association invites all the people of this county, who are interested in livestock in any way, to see a free moving picture show at the City Hall in Bryan, Saturday May 14th, at one o'clock. The picture to be shown is entitled 'The Golden Pure Bred Age' and consists of four reels. Immediately after the picture show, we have arranged to have Colonel Clarence Ousley address those present on the subject of 'The Advantages of Pure Bred Livestock.'"

Our livestock specialist (Mr. C. M. Evans) informs me that this picture is a film made on Pure Bred stock farms in Collin County, Texas, and shows some of the finest stock farms in Texas, as well as the methods used in caring for such stock. As you perhaps know, there is getting to be quite a good deal of fine livestock in Brazos County and if you and your neighbors can arrange to attend the meeting mentioned by Mr. Astin, you no doubt will secure some valuable information and also be thoroughly entertained by the moving picture and the address of Colonel Ousley. FLUCTUATIONS IN THE PRICE OF COTTON

(By Associated Press) Galveston, Texas, May 10.—When middling cotton receded to 11 cents a pound here recently it sunk to within 4 1-4 points of the lowest figure recorded during the panicky days of the world war. The ebb tide of middling, according to records of the Galveston cotton exchange, arrived on October 20, 1914, when that grade of the staple was quoted at only 6 3-4 cents. Quoted at 13 cents a pound on the day following the outbreak of the world war, the course of middling ebbed and flowed during the succeeding months, the figures zig-zagging as did the fortunes of battle on the western and eastern fronts in Europe.

On August 3, cotton exchanges throughout the country voted to suspend spot quotations because of the uncertainties due to the war in Europe. Business was resumed, however, on September 16, and middling was quoted at 8 1-8 cents. The notation was made on the books of the exchange here that "because of practically no demand, no quotations were made in grades under low middling." On September 17, middling rose to 8 3-8 cents, from which point it gradually declined until on October 20, the same year, it touched its lowest mark, 6 3-4 cents a pound.

With the dawn of the new year middling showed a trifle of strength. On March 1 it was quoted 8 1-4; on April 17, 10 cents; July 10, 8 1-2; August 12, 9 cents; August 28, 9 1-2 cents; September 28, 11 1/2, and on October 4, 12 1-4 cents. On January 5, the first day of trading in 1916, spot middling was quoted at 12 1/2 cents, and on May 9, it first touched 13 cents. From this time onward the staple showed a continual gain. On August 3 middling was quoted at 14; August 23 it touched 15; August 31 it reached 16, and on October 14, middling was quoted at 17 cents. Four days later it had risen to 18 cents. The following the presidential elections, on Nov. 5 middling cotton was quoted at 19 1/2 cents a pound, and on November 14, 20 cents. Then the market receded, carrying middling downward 14 1-2 cents a pound on February 2, 1917.

The first trading day following the entry of the United States into the world war saw middling priced at 20 1/2 cents, and on August 6, middling brought 27 cents. The highest point reached by cotton in 1917 was attained December 28, when middling was chucked up at 30 cents. On January 3, 1918, the grade brought 31 cents, and on September 3, 36 3/8 cents. The peak achieved by the south's great product was registered in April, 1920, when middling went to 43 1-4 cents a pound, its highest price recorded in the United States since the civil war.

MINNETT AND ANDERSON ATTEMPT TO BREAK JAIL

Bootlegger and Penitentiary Convict Caught By Sheriff Morehead After They Had Escaped Into Run-Around By Sawing Steel Bars To Their Cell in County Jail.

About 11 o'clock Friday night Sheriff L. E. Morehead was awakened by a dull rasping sound in the second story of the Brazos county jail and after a moment decided that there was a jail delivery staged. Quietly going up stairs and approaching the northeast corner cell he saw in the dim light Frank Minnett, a negro, sawing on a bar of steel on outside cell window bars. Sheriff Morehead covered Minnett with his pistol and ordered: "Hands up!" It was found that two steel bars fourteen inches long and an inch and a half in circumference had been sawed out of the cell allowing the body of a man to pull through into the run-around giving him an exit to saw the outside window to make his escape from the second story. Charley Anderson, the Beaumont negro bootlegger, who was arrested on the Bev Thornton farm last week with a whiskey still and several gallon jugs of "White Lightning" was still inside the cell and declared he had nothing to do with sawing the steel bars and that Frank Minnett was alone the responsible party. Minnett has a two-year penitentiary sentence from Kaufman county and two-year sentence from Brazos county for attempting to shoot his wife with murderous intent. Sheriff Morehead had been expecting the state prison officials in Bryan for some weeks to take Minnett back to the penitentiary where he was brought here for trial at the last term of the Brazos county district court. The Beaumont negro, Charley Anderson, said, "Now, Mr. Sheriff I tried to tell you that Frank was sawing out of the jail but I couldn't get you to hear me." It is thought the work of sawing the bars was done while Sheriff and Mrs. Morehead were away from home. Soap was used to fill up the gaps in the steel bars and the work could not be detected unless under very close inspection. The outside bar had just a few marks on it as Sheriff Morehead was awakened about the time Minnett began to file it away.

SHERIFF MOREHEAD HAS SOME EVIDENCE
The Brazos county grand jury will convene Monday morning at 9 o'clock and will be empaneled by District Judge W. C. Davis who has been at Franklin and Cameron the past week holding district court. Sheriff Morehead has some evidence to submit to the grand jury regarding the person who furnished Minnett and Anderson with the saw. They are two in number and about five or six inches long and of the finest steel. When we asked the boys if they were going to leave the jugs of whiskey and their still in jail and go out the back window to escape one of them said: "Yessir, boss, we don't have no use for that stuff any more" and had turned it all over to Mr. Morehead. Sheriff Morehead thinks he has in his possession now all the saws that have been shipped into the county jail to aid the prisoners to make their escape and can at least sleep tonight with one eye closed.

FOUR YEAR COURSE AGRICULTURE ENGINEERING TO BE GIVEN

(Special to the Eagle)
College Station, Texas, May 10.—A full four-year course in agricultural engineering leading to the degree of bachelor of science, will be offered to freshmen and sophomores beginning September 1921, at the A. & M. college of Texas, according to an announcement made by the general faculty after a special meeting held the past week.

In the past the College has offered through the department of agricultural engineering, only a two year course but Prof. D. Scoates has been trying for some time to have the work of the course extended to cover four years with the purpose of giving the student his engineering training from an agricultural viewpoint in order that he may better handle the engineering projects which affect the agricultural population.

"Irrigation, drainage, land reclamation and power machinery on the farm require the services of experts in engineering who have a fundamental knowledge and know the relation of the two sciences," Prof. Scoates said in discussing the new course. "There are 305,000,000 acres of land in the United States needing drainage. 150,000,000 acres that may be reclaimed and 200,000,000 acres available for clearing, and while there is only 22,500,000 horsepower used in all manufacturing industries in the United States, today there is used on the farms 29,000,000 horsepower, which gives some idea of the field for engineers."

MAN AND GIRL KILLED IN AIRPLANE CRASH

(By Associated Press)
Abilene, Texas, May 9.—A mechanical man Carson and Miss Margaret Pearson were killed and Lieutenant E. A. Locking seriously injured today when an airplane piloted by Carson fell at a local aviation field.

Lieutenant Locking is said to be in a serious condition. He served during the world war in the British royal flying corps and has 2,000 hours of air service to his credit. The aviator had made his home in Temple and Abilene since coming to America from Yorkshire, England.

The cause of the accident has not been definitely determined, but witnesses believe the plane went into a tailspin.

E. T. Akin, local aviator, who examined the wrecked airplane, declared he believed the control lever jammed and that Carson lost control of the machine. Carson is said to have been a student aviator. The trio had been in the air only a short time and were preparing to land when the plane crashed to the ground. Carson and Locking are interested in a local aviation club.

A SAPIRO SPOKE TO GREAT AUDIENCE AT BAPTIST TABERNACLE

Co-operative marketing is not a new idea, because European countries have been succeeding at it for two generations and the Pacific coast of America has finally learned enough about it to make it pay, Aaron Sapiro, California marketing expert and author of the Texas co-operative marketing law which has been copied by eight other states, said in addressing more than 600 Brazos county farmers here Saturday afternoon at the Baptist Tabernacle. County Agent C. L. Beason presided over the meeting. Mr. Sapiro was introduced by Lee J. Rountree. Short talks were made at the close of Mr. Sapiro address by Mr. Beason, E. H. Astin, Walton Petet, of Dallas; D. D. Peevey, of the Texas Farm Bureau, A. W. Kinnard and others. Mr. Sapiro spoke to the student body of A. and M. College Saturday morning, after the College authorities, who invited him, had dismissed all classes.

Mr. Sapiro emphasized the importance to the whole community of the fact that the farmer must either make a profit on his crops or lower his standard of living. He pointed with pride to his native state and the culture and prosperity of its rural community through co-operative marketing and then told of the poverty in the Southland because of the instability of the farmers' business.

Women Work in Cotton Fields.
"Out of a million and a half women and children working in the fields of America," he said, "a million and three hundred thousand work in the cotton fields of the South." He then told the story of how industry in California was broken until the efforts of the growers to organize eventually succeeded and stabilize farming through a merchandising system for farm products instead of a dumping system. In organizing 22 commodities, he said that he believed that the California growers had met all of the problems that farmers anywhere have, because they have organized for the sale of products from the most perishable to the most staple. With each commodity, there are individual problems to be solved but there are underlying principles for any successful and purely co-operative marketing association, Mr. Sapiro said. He then outlined the principles and applied them to the cotton marketing association being organized in Texas and in eight other states.

"These principles are that you must organize by the commodity instead of the locality, with growers only, on a business basis, with long-term contracts that will stand up in court, with a minimum guaranteed large enough to make you the largest factor on the market upon which you expect to operate; you must pool and have a complete community of interests, and you must operate through experts who will merchandise your cotton instead of dumping it on the market, and you must have a non-profit, non-capital stock association."

Judge Sapiro declared that the association will not get the grower 20 cents for 15-cent cotton, but it will get him 15 cents for 15-cent cotton, "and a whole lot of it will not stick to the middle man." He explained in detail the subsidiary warehousing corporation plan, the financing plans the advance payment on cotton, the handling of crop mortgages, and the cotton contract.

Owing to the lateness of the hour after the Sapiro address, it was decided impracticable to attempt county organization of the Farm Bureau. Upon suggestion of A. W. Kinnard and others the matter was postponed until Monday, May 23, 2 p. m.

Mr. D. D. Peevey, of the Texas Farm Bureau, appointed E. U. Peters, Sam Cavitt, W. E. Graham, I. M. Cook and Walter Armstrong a committee to select steering committee for county organization May 23. The following committee was selected and will meet at Chamber of Commerce next Saturday morning, May 14, 9 a. m.: F. H. Pool, Henry Kurten, Chas. Merka, C. M. Degelia, John Neddalek, E. U. Peters, Joe Lloyd, Sam E. Cavitt, Walter Armstrong, I. M. Cook and W. E. Graham. This committee will endeavor to have full attendance of not only the two hundred and fifty odd members of the Farm Bureau, but also all the new members and other farmers of the county interested in the Farm Bureau movement.

Mrs. Kate Lee Daugherty, district agent, Extension Service, spoke briefly concerning the women's part in the Farm Bureau work, and suggested that all farmers bring their wives out to these meetings. She advocated the placing of at least four good farm women on the Brazos County Board of Directors.

GRIM AND SILENT PARADE OF KU KLUX KLAN AT EAGLE LAKE

(Eagle Lake Headlight)
Without warning, without intimation of intent or purposes, between 200 and 250 marchers, hooded and shrouded in the robes of the famed Ku Klux Klan, paraded through the business section and out into some of the residential portions of Eagle Lake between 8 and 9 o'clock last night. At the head of the procession was the flaming cross of the order and the American flag.

The ordinary Saturday night life of Eagle Lake was in full swing. The night was an ideal one and the town was filled with people, the streets alight and crowds busily bent upon business or pleasure, when a fire alarm was turned in and the fire engine immediately left the fire house, proceeding down Main Street with its shrill whistle. No fire could be located and the engine, for the time being, stopped at the postoffice corner. Then the shrill call of the Klansmen was heard and the flaming cross was seen moving down Main Street toward the business section of town.

The Rex theatre, cold drink stands and stores of all kinds were quickly emptied and the occupants came to the walks to see what was going on. The streets were thronged with people and you had to work your way through the crowd to get a good place to view the passing ghastly figures. The sight was different from anything that has ever occurred in Eagle Lake.

Down the main highway came an apparently endless column of shrouded, silent men. Upon the breast of each shroud was the insignia of the Ku Klux Klan. The carrier of the flaming cross rode a prancing steed, entirely robed in white, only the horse's eyes and feet being exposed to view. Then came four horsemen abreast, the two outside riders carrying large American flags. Spaced well apart, moving forward with steady, rhythmic step and in single file, fully 200 men with folded arms formed the line. Well to the front of the procession a banner was displayed bearing the legend, "For Law and Order." Other banners displayed in the parade were, "White Supremacy, 100 Per Cent American," and "God Pity the Man Who Commits Crime in the Name of the K. K. K."

After almost a hundred of the Klansmen had filed by along Main Street, turning north at the Postoffice corner, a bugle call was sounded at the Dallas Hotel corner and the entire line of white figures came to a sudden stop. It was at this time the line of marchers were joined by fully fifty or seventy-five more of the Klansmen who came from the west. The effect of the parade was awesome. The crowds flocked out of the stores and amusement places to see what was happening. A ripple of applause greeted the flaming cross and American flags as they filed by, but the applause was quickly followed by silence and by wonderment.

No one knew where the parade had formed or whether it went as it returned out Main Street after circling the square and business section. The numerical strength of the organization was the subject of speculation and comment after the robed figures had vanished into the darkness out Main Street along the county highway.

A rather peculiar thing concerning the parade is that none of the men whom one would suppose members of the Klan appeared in the parade, but were interested spectators on the side lines. Three men stood on the streets and were saluted by the Klan as they marched in solemn procession. Every body up to this time thought these three men were the leaders of the Klan. Where they came from no one knows, and we have heard of no one following to determine where they went—but the general supposition is that surrounding towns furnished quotas to the long procession which marched through the streets of Eagle Lake. The parade of the Klan was a very impressive one and has undoubtedly removed that vision from some who seem opposed to it that the Klan consisted of only a handful of men. It has proved that it is a very strong organization—one that stands for law and order, and the evil doer in this community from now and henceforth will never know when the eye of the Klansmen is on him, even though he may be getting by the law and allying evading the officers.

BR. SCHMIDT WILL SURVEY CONDITIONS SOUTH TEXAS CATTLE

(Special to the Eagle)
College Station, Texas, May 7.—Dr. H. Schmidt, Veterinarian, Agricultural Experiment Station, A. & M. College, is surveying the conditions among the cattle of the coast country reported in recent dispatches from that section to be very serious as a cause of a queer malady that has been recurring in a number of years and causing the death of a large number of cattle, and which is reported to be more widespread this year than at any previous time.

Dr. Schmidt stated yesterday that there was much he could do except to observe the cases that may be seen there and bring blood samples back to College for examination. For three successive years he has shipped cattle supposed to be affected with the disease to College and there he has learned the nature of the malady, but this year Brazos county is under quarantine against the tick infested cattle of that area of the state and no more specimens can be brought here for examination and study. He said the seriousness of the disease is apparent as many thousands of cattle are apparently dying. For this reason he has shipped cattle back to College and there he has learned the nature of the malady, but this year Brazos county is under quarantine against the tick infested cattle of that area of the state and no more specimens can be brought here for examination and study.

Boog-Scott also made a request upon the A. & M. College for experts in bacteriology, biology and pathology. "The situation demands an experimental scientist," he said Thursday. Grafke, inspector in charge of the Bureau of Animal Industry here, and the Experimental Department of the A. & M. College."

The disease caused the death of several thousand head of cattle in Harris County last year. It has not been determined whether the cause lies in range infection, absence of certain properties in the soil or bacteria.

TOO MUCH WASTE OF TIME AND MONEY

Sherman, Texas, May 10.—There is a common opinion among manufacturers of the country that efficiency must be increased and waste eliminated if the competition of foreign manufacturers at our doors is to be met. Carl L. Pool, who returned Monday from the semi-annual convention of the Society of Industrial Engineers at Milwaukee, stated before the bi-weekly luncheon meeting of the local society at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday evening. This sentiment, Mr. Pool said, he found to be held by the leading manufacturers attending the convention. The whole country has been wasting time, money, material and labor and that is the reason there is no "normalcy." The people as a whole are to blame and if all would stop and go earnestly to work the war would be over.

L. H. White has returned to his home in Houston after spending the week-end with relatives and friends.

MONUMENT LAW IS DEFENDED BY GOV. NEFF

Governor Neff has discovered that while he is Governor of all the state, his critics did not resign when he was inaugurated. They seem more to have aided new leaves to their portfolios and to have taken notes more industriously than ever. "For instance," said the Governor in his speech at San Antonio last week, "they said I was not sincere in vetoing bills on the ground of economy because I approved a bill appropriating $30,000 with which to build a monument to our soldiers. They never investigated to see that the bill was so worded that the expenditure of this money was under the direction of the Governor in such a way that it could not be spent until, in the opinion of the Governor, it could be spared for that purpose. I am for a fitting monument for our heroes, but while I am Governor not a dollar will go out of the treasury for this purpose until our people are in better financial circumstances than they are today."

In stating that the money will not be spent during the immediate pinch of deflated prices and pocketbooks the Governor answers appropriately and well the cry for economy, while in declaring in a phrase his approval of a fitting monument for men who found it sweet to die for native land he lays the predicate for an adequate reply to the cry against extravagance. There is no extravagance in erecting memorials to those who have signally served the State. Such monuments are ineffectual as rewards, but as reminders to those who raise the marble shafts and to their children's children they are inspiration itself.

If indeed the happiest people is that whose annals are so brief as to produce no moral or intellectual giants for later generations to look back to, surely far from happy is that nation or that state which, though beneficiary of the devotion and sacrifice of many brave sons, has not the gratitude to remember them. While it is true that gratitude is not a thing of marble or molded bronze, still more true is it that a sentiment which would withhold, for reasons of parsimony, from gratitude the expression of enduring stone or metal is in nowise akin to the sentiment that counted life itself a cheap gift when the country's welfare was at stake.—Dallas-Galveston News.

It is strange that criticism is oftentimes based on the lack of information and knowledge on the part of those who criticize. The $30,000 appropriated to erect a monument near the state capital in Austin to the World War Heroes was supported by the American Legion. The authors of the bill, Representatives Rountree, of Brazos; Faubion of Burnett, and Tear, of Williamson, drafted the bill carefully to meet all the issues. It proposes that when the Governor of Texas sees fit he can appoint a commission of three citizens of Texas to formulate plans for the memorial "to be erected by the patriotic people of Texas on the capitol grounds in Austin to commemorate the heroic deeds of our soldiers of the world war." This money is not available until the people of Texas contribute at least $100,000 through their organizations to perpetuate the memory of our beloved dead. Those who gave their noble lives and their precious blood for our country and our flag. Those who would place political ambitions, material interests and commercial supremacy and other things against a loving, endearing tribute to our boys who fell on Flanders Fields are to be pitied more than blamed. In counting the deeds as undying to us, and history we might say: "Breathes there a man with soul so dead Who to himself hath never said This is my own—my native land?"

BRAZOS COUNTY BOYS AND GIRLS CLUB DEPT.

Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Beason

The Harvey Boys' and Girls' Club has been organized with the following officers: Thurston Etheridge, president; Grady Kincannon, vice-president; Inez Etheridge, secretary; club leader not selected.

Report of May 6, by R. W. Persons, state agent, in charge of Boys' Club work, Extension Service, shows Brazos County, district 2, 14 counties, second in club enrollment, Madison county leading by only four members. By the time our Shorthorn, Hereford, dairy, and pig clubs are completed old Brazos County will be far in the lead. Keep your eye on Brazos County clubs for progress.

Tuesday morning after the rain and hail when many of our farmers were feeling blue over crop prospects and the low price of cotton, R. Q. Astin, Shorthorn breeder and president of the Brazos County Pure Bred Live Stock Association, received mail orders amounting to several hundred dollars for pure bred cattle, one check of $250 from Mr. R. C. Howard, of Montgomery County, being sent as purchase price of a seven months old bull calf. $250, the price paid for a seven months old calf would purchase five bales of cotton which would require ten to twenty acres of land to produce and a whole family most of the year to make and harvest. A cow that will produce a calf worth $250 at seven months old is worth a thousand dollars and then some.

Be a booster for pure breeds in Brazos County. Join the Pure Bred Live Stock Association.

The Club Work Courier, College of Agriculture, University of Vermont, April 25, has the following interesting paragraph: "Great Doings! We shall soon see county club agents in three new counties: Addison, Chittenden, and Washington. The assured success of the $10.00 farm family membership makes a club agent possible in Addison. In Washington county, the banks and board of trade in Barre, Montpelier, Northfield, and Waterbury, guarantee $1,600 to support the club work in the farm bureau. The Burlington Chamber of Commerce pledges $1000 to the Chittenden County Farm Bureau for Boys' and Girls' club work."

The Mistletoe Creameries, Fort Worth has offered a fifty-dollar scholarship to the Farm Boys' Division of the summer session of the A. & M. College, this year. "Competition," says Prof. Ridgway, for this scholarship will be restricted to active club members. The award is to be made on a basis of proficiency in writing and submitting an article on "Why I Should Like to be a Dairy Farmer." The article is not to be longer than five or six hundred words and should be submitted to us not later than the first of June, 1921. All right, Brazos county club members, get busy and win this prize. Every body wants to help the boy and girl who desires to accomplish something worth while. This explains why so many good things come to club members.

Just at this time we are unable to announce the winners in recent club contests for "Best Stories of Trip to College," one of the judges yet having the girls' papers to look over. All the 22 papers have been so fine that the judges have had to read and re-read to reach decisions. Names were clipped from all papers, hence the judges have been guided by the stories only. The winners will be notified by letter in order that they may come or send

The Shorthorn club, financed by The City National Bank, will be completed Saturday and now comes the other two banks saying they desire to show their appreciation of the ambitious boys and girls of this county by financing two other clubs, The First State Bank and Trust Company taking the popular Hereford as its choice, while the First National Bank will select dairy stock. The record is better yet for April. These hens are Rhode Island Reds from 220 egg strain."

Letters Are Received. The following letter will recall the question County Agent Beason gave to the Kurten school a short time ago: "Kurten, Texas, May 9, 1921: Mr. C. L. Beason: Dear Sir: In regard to the contest for watching for watermelon blooms, I have seen one, and the little melon comes first. I remain, yours truly, (Signed) LILLIE BELLE GILPIN."

"Bryan, Texas, May 10, 1921, Miss Lillie Belle Gilpin, Kurten, Texas Dear Miss Lillie Belle: Your letter of yesterday is the first to come from your school in answer to my question. "Which comes to the vine first, the watermelon or the bloom?" Your answer is correct when considering the pistillate, or female, blooms, but you may also observe staminate bloom where no water melons ever appear. Yours being the first answer from observation, I am sending you a little book with poem, "Cracking the Bar" a Masterpiece in the English language. Most respectfully, C. L. BEASON, County Agent, Brazos County."

The Market Reporter, U. S. Department of Agriculture, May, makes the following statement: "The Bureau of Crop Estimates reported the number of breeding sows on farms in the United States on April 1, as 8,786,000, a decrease of practically 200,000 from April 1, 1920." Plan to market some of your feed crops through the "hog route."

All pig club members who need pigs, or who have pigs for sale, should notify the County Agent at once. You may help others; others may help you.

Mrs. Kate Lee Daugherty, at the Farm Bureau meeting Saturday stated that she hoped to see the farm women attend the Farm Bureau meetings, and that at least four farm women should be placed on the county board of directors for this organization.

DRAMATIC CLUB COMPARABLE TO A LITTLE THEATRE.

The Season of the Dramatic Club of A. and M. come to a close with the production of "It Pays to Advertise" in Guion Hall, Tuesday, May 3. It is of interest to note the fact that the works of the club this year has been fully comparable to that of a Little Theatre Organization, such as has been established in nearly all the large cities throughout the country. The plays given by the club compare favorably with those put on by a Little Theatre of high standing, both in quality and in number. The Little Theatre may be said to be the newest and the most successful movement which has originated in the theatrical world in a decade. Briefly it consists of an organization of a number of prominent citizens of a community for the purpose of the production of plays of high class, from home talent, at a limited expense, and in their own theatre. The Little Theatres do not attempt to attract large audiences; their aim is to serve the interested few who appreciate drama. The average seating capacity of a Little Theatre is about four hundred.

As yet, there are only two complete Little Theatres in Texas, one being in San Antonio and one in Dallas. The Dallas Theatre has produced four plays this year. The A. and M. Dramatic Club has produced the same number. The plays of the Dallas Club have been well known successes of three acts. Those produced at College Station have been no less so.

HE COULDN'T DO FULL DAY'S WORK

OKLAHOMA MAN IS ON THE JOB EVERY DAY AND FEELS JUST FINE SINCE TAKING TANLAC

"At the time I got Tanlac three years ago I hadn't been able to put in a full day's work for two years; but the medicine fixed me up to where I felt fine and I've not lost a day's work on account of ill-health since," said Charles Hamblen, well known farmer residing on R. F. D. No. 1, Keeferton, Okla.

"About five years ago my system got out of order and I went down in health until I was so weak I could hardly stand up. As for work, I was scarcely able to do anything. I had no appetite and what little I did eat seemed to do me no good, and I had headaches constantly. I was also troubled with a persistent cough, and it seemed that my old-time strength and energy were gone for good.

"But it didn't take Tanlac but a little while to straighten me out and I was soon full of new life and energy. Ever since then I've been praising Tanlac, and I'm glad to give this statement for what it may be worth to others. Tanlac is the best medicine I ever saw or heard of."
